

Senior Developer

About the role

We are looking for a motivated, experienced full stack developer to join our growing team. This is not remote working (although working from home is always an option, but ideally we'd like you in our central London studio!).

You will lead the digital team, working closely with the the creative team, and be 100% comfortable client facing, explaining digital solutions and conclusions in a clear and logical manner.

If you thrive on helping start-ups to problem solving, then this role is completely right for you!

You'll work across a variety of digital projects, so will need strong skills in Wordpress development, HTML, SCSS, JS as well as PHP and the use of CLI alongside solid linux server management.

Responsibilities will include:

- Web development - developing new sites and upgrading existing sites utilising HTML5, SCSS/CSS, JS, PHP and WordPress
- Website management - supporting and adding new features to current client websites

The successful candidate will be confident in recommending, exploring and implementing improved methods across build and delivery with the rest of the team.

Experience

- 3 years+ experience in an agency environment
- Working across multiple projects simultaneously
- Enthusiasm around digital practises, trends and methods

Essential Skills

- Linux Server Management
- Comfortable Client Facing
- Responsive, retina-ready website building using:
 - HTML/5
 - SCSS, CSS/CSS3
 - JS and jQuery
 - PHP (OOPHP)

- Thorough knowledge of Wordpress theme development
- Thorough knowledge of Wordpress plugin development
- Excellent verbal and written communication
- Ability to manage your time across several clients and projects
- Understanding of digital production process
- Strong creative problem solving abilities
- Mac-based development

Desirable Skills

- Frontend frameworks e.g. Bootstrap/Foundation
- CSS methodologies e.g. BEM/OOCSS
- Git source control (we use Bitbucket)
- Clean, DRY code
- UX/UI best practices
- Making animations with CSS/JS
- SEO best experiences/ Webmaster tools
- Shopify Experience
- Stripe / PayPal / Payment gateway integrations
- Bower, Gulp, NPM, Grunt
- Understanding of deployment routines e.g. Capistrano
- Ruby

We don't expect you to tick all of the above boxes, so please don't be put off; we'd still love to hear about you and your set of skills.

About Drew

A brand focussed graphic design agency based in Old Street, London, we deliver beautiful design across print and digital platforms for a range of clients from niche retail brands to charities and asset management corporations. We strive to delight clients and audiences with results which go beyond expectations.

Beyond work

We have an eclectic range of interests and pastimes and are looking for a good team player. Sociable and with great taste in music, we hope that you will become an active character within our team and if you also have a love of animals (particularly small dogs called Spike) then so much the better.
